Elevator Pitches

Short Pitch

The necessary transformation of mankind to step out of the repeating pattern.

A description in 25-words

A new era on earth begins. A big vicious circle closes and another one opens. This book explains how you fit into the new era to come.

A description in 50-words

This book explains the necessary transformation as we proceed in the intersection between two main vicious circles. Whether you at the end of this intersection start a next repetition or continue, depends on your development. Important is to add to your own energy in order to incarnate more and release all other energy in you.

A description in 100-words

A large vicious circle of about 26,000 years closes and another one opens. On such a crossroad you can step out the cycle. The question is if you are prepared. This possibility started in 1988 and takes several decades. Some have experienced this and become aware, others get that opportunity now. In order to proceed you need to adapt to the energy of earth. That energy on earth increases in speed and accelerates and ask you to adapt. Choose and become NOW able to step out the life and death cycle on earth. The development steps needed are described from several perspectives to make it understandable.

How this book originated

Like many people, also we had many life questions. Questions that asked for an answer. Questions already present in early childhood and more questions due to the intensive and not always easy life. The first meaningful answers we got while doing inner work on ourselves. During the intuitive training we learned not to take things at face, but observe them with an open mind without judging and seeing through the layers that covers it. So we observed without interpretations, associations, thoughts, or assumptions. Also, we learned to know the difference between intuition and instinct and feeling on the other hand. This process to develop the intuition to a useful source – as early persons on earth could - takes some time.

We more often used intuition. During the years we met people who suddenly let go of their skills. We wondered what happened to them and why, as they suddenly let go of the so painfully learned inner skills. The answers to these questions showed us how they stepped once more in the repetition because of their fear to continue or they were tempted by their longing for outer power.

By asking questions, you get an answer. By raising a question from your intuition, you observe whatever is veiled for others and you uncover it. Every time you perceive on the intuitive level, it reflects something to you. It allows you to change and detach what no longer fits, as it is not yours. As a result your own energy increases.

In the process of life we are assisted by colleagues who helped us to maintain our own path and proceed. For this it is imperative to have a healthy body and mind. After many years of intensive experience what life means for us and others, we discovered a pattern.

A pattern of many thousands of years which continues to repeat for those who do not know what is necessary to continue. Many persons remain believing and continue on a path that constantly repeats itself and where they lose track of the purpose of life and themselves (degenerate). This pattern is recorded in this book.

The development steps are described that help you to become motivated to move on. The development steps are shown from multiple perceptions, so that you too can use them to your advantage. If you have a view on the possibilities, the continuation on your path of life becomes easier and motivating.

Facts

This book is about

A more than thousand year old pattern that brings the mankind not any further (Ring no Further). Only some individuals know how to follow the path of life by facing the facts of life, perceiving reality and make a considered choice. They release the many veils and proceed on the path of Self Realization and accelerate along with earth.

What makes this book unique?

The book describes a period of approximately 50,000 years, creating prospect of repeating patterns. It seems that humanity remains with their back to the future and their face to the past. It allows some to repeat and wallow in ever thicker layers in order to keep up appearances. Thus they increasingly become disconnected from their inner Self and their purpose of life.

This book describes the nine steps to get out of the repeating pattern. Perspectives that are highlighted are: Social behavior, color, degree of descent into the body, psychological explanation and what to become aware in any step. Through knowledge of these developmental stages it is easier and motivating to continue your path of life, stop any repetition and realize your Self.
